

How to create a link for groups on the side menu of a Course in Blackboard

Click on the (+) icon above the side menu then select Tool Link

Type a name for your group then from the Type menu select Groups. Tick the Available to Users check box and then select Submit

The new link appears at the bottom of the side menu

Working within groups is one of the most important and effective strategies of active learning. If you want to organize students into groups and provide tools for communication and cooperation between the members of one group, create several groups that suit the number of students within your course.
